A FROG'S LIFE

Many animals change body shapes over the course of their life cycles. Frogs are one kind. Can you think of any others?

Here are the main stages of a frog's life, out of order. Number them one to four in the proper order.

George loved playing soccer.
But he needed a new ball.

“When I was young, I got a new soccer ball by running a lemonade stand,” the man with the yellow hat said.

The man with the yellow hat was going out. "We can have some lemonade together when I get home, George!" he said.

The man with the yellow hat was going out.
“We can have some lemonade together
when I get home, George!” he said.

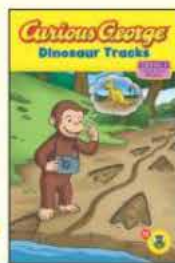

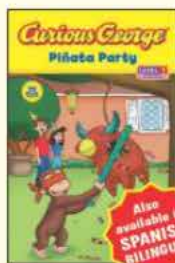

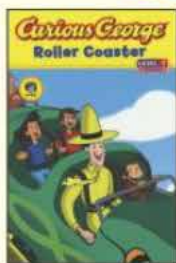

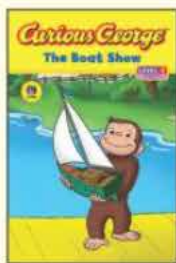

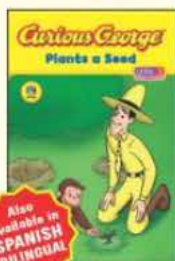

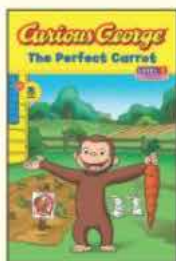

George looked at the lemonade in the refrigerator.

He really wanted a new soccer ball.

George brought the lemonade outside.
He borrowed a lemon crate from the shopkeeper down the street.
The crate would make a perfect stand.
