PRINCESS

Merry Christmas, Princess!

Includes Lift-the-Flap Countdown Calendar!

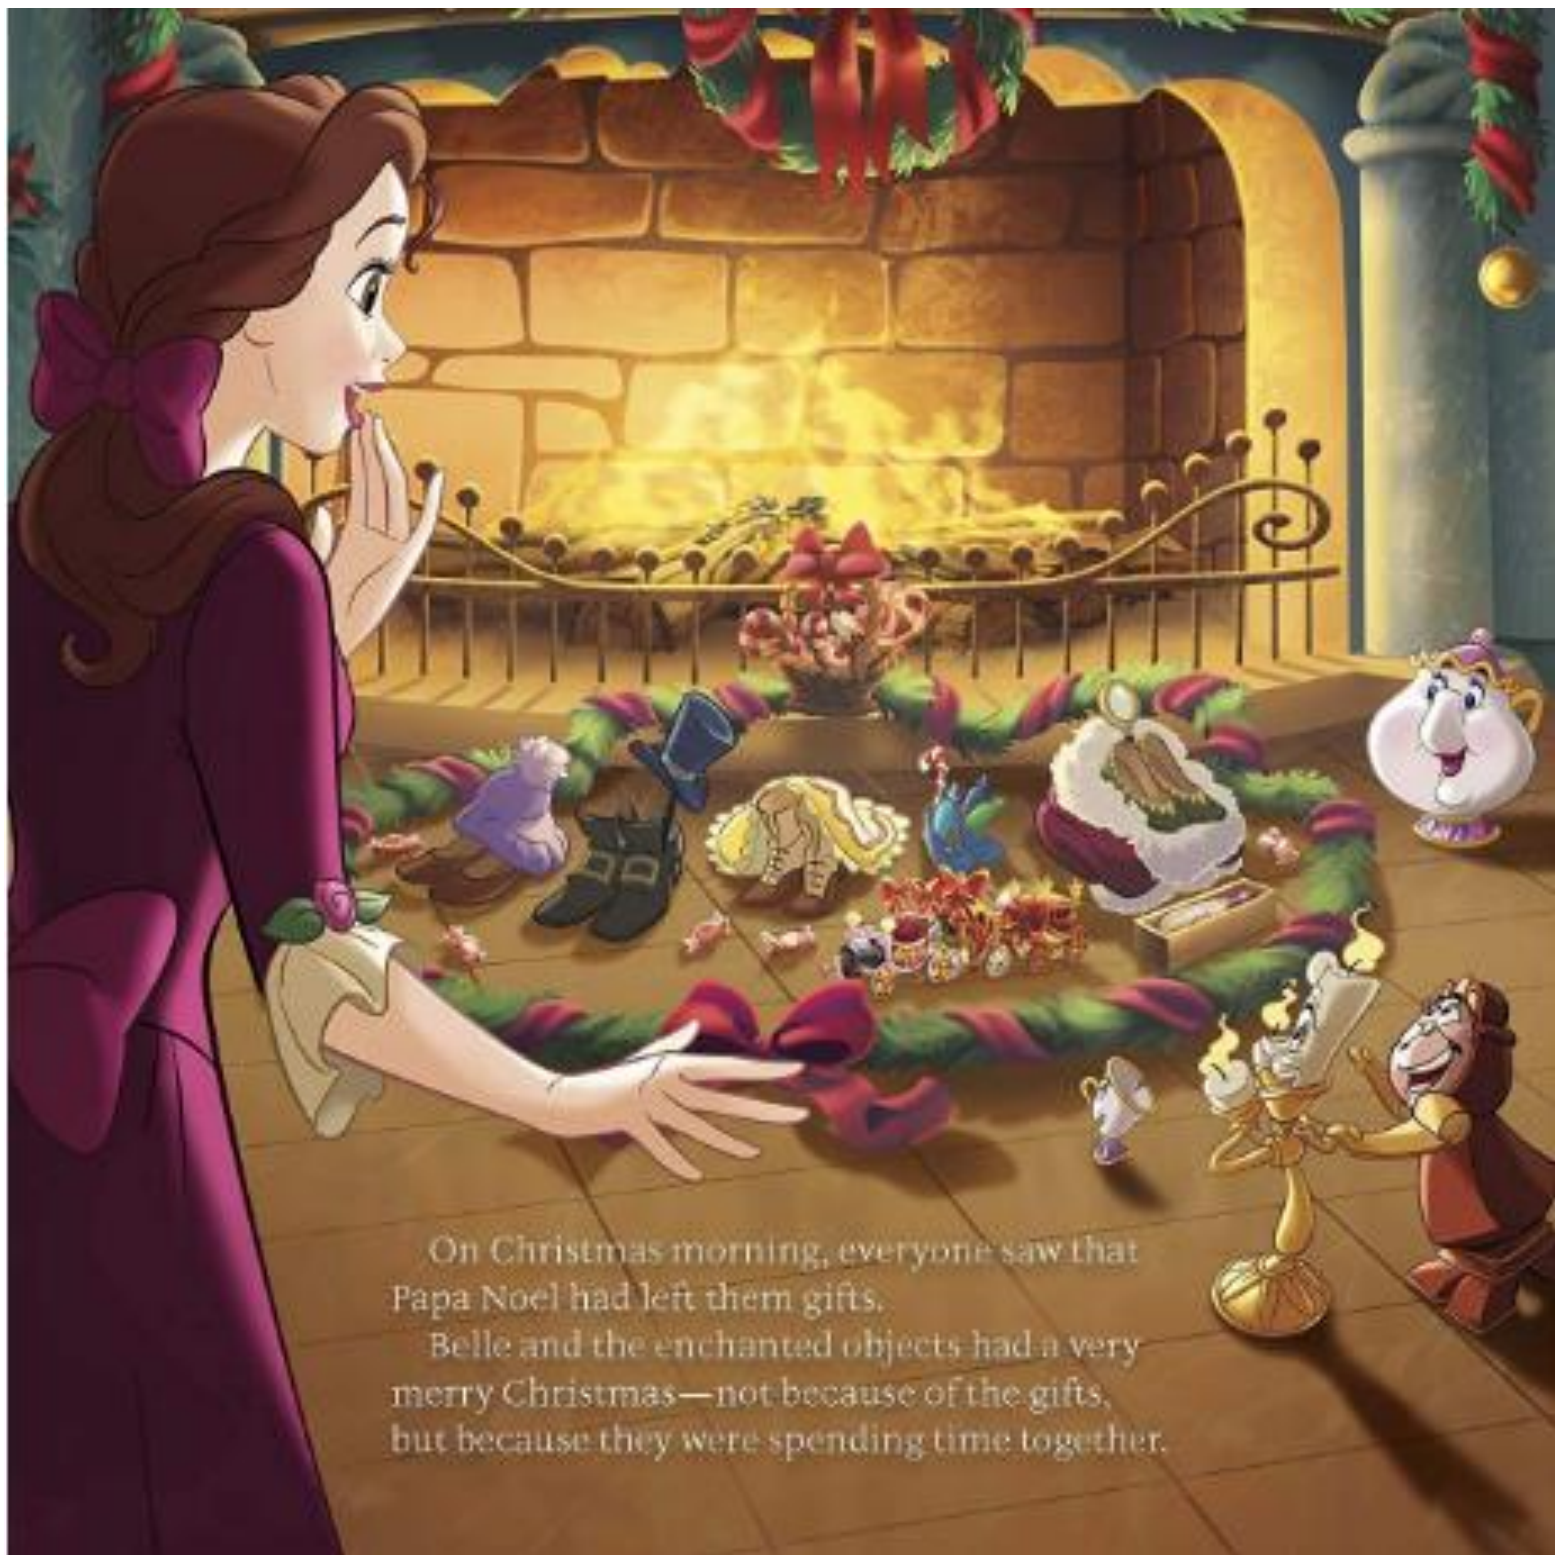

Cinderella decorated outside the castle, too. The Prince helped her hang garland around the front door while the mice worked on the tree. Well, most of the mice.

"Gus!" Jaq scolded. "You're supposed to be hanging the popcorn, not eating it!"

After eating her delicious food, the people ran outside to play. It was a Southern winter wonderland! Tiana was thrilled that everyone could enjoy this magical time with each other.

On Christmas morning, everyone saw that Papa Noel had left them gifts.

Belle and the enchanted objects had a very merry Christmas—not because of the gifts, but because they were spending time together.

Princess Aurora's favorite part of Christmas was giving thoughtful gifts. One year, she planned something extra special. She was going to make Prince Phillip a present! When she told the good fairies, they were excited to help.
