Home sweet home

Not every princess lives happily in a castle or palace. For some, home is a humble cottage in the woods. For others, home can feel like a prison. But for a lucky few princesses, their homes are places close to their hearts, full of happy memories.

Noisy home

Belle's cottage sits at the edge of a sleepy French town. But it isn't exactly quiet inside. Her father, Maurice, is always busy with experiments that sometimes explode!

Motunui

The beautiful island of Motunui once thrived. Now Moana's home is threatened by a mysterious darkness. She will do anything to try and save it.

A perfect hideout

Aurora lives in a cozy cottage tucked away in the woods. Here, three good fairies hope to keep her safe from a scary spell.

DunBroch Castle

A loving place

Tiana's home is full of love and warmth. It is here that she learned to cook delicious gumbo, with an extra dash of special sauce.

Underwater kingdom

Ariel grew up in a beautiful underwater palace. She has everything she could ever ask for—but she still dreams of standing on dry land.

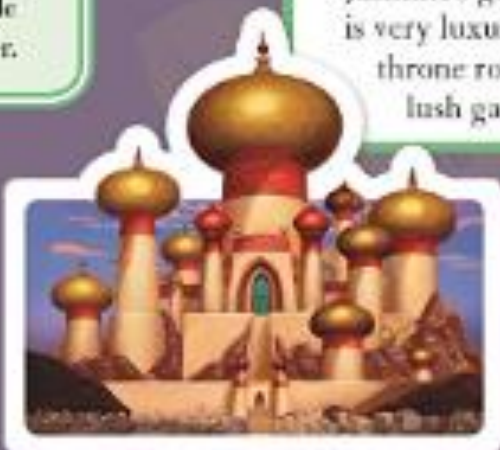

Run-down house

Cinderella's home was once beautiful, but not anymore. Her stepmother would rather spend money on her two horrible daughters.

Rapunzel's tower stands high among mountains and forests. It is almost impossible for anyone to find her.

Magnificent palace

Jasmine's golden-domed palace is very luxurious. It has a grand throne room and perfect, lush gardens to roam in.

Friends to the rescue

Luckily for the princesses, they have more friends than enemies. With adorable animals, friendly fairies, and even talking household objects on their side, these princesses never need to be afraid of their evil foes.

Troublesome triplets

Merida's three naughty brothers, Harris, Hubert, and Hamish, help her and her mother sneak out of the palace ... in return for their favorite dessert!

Mrs. Potts

Not only is the enchanted teapot good at serving tea, she also comforts Belle and helps her to understand the Beast.

"I'll try to help you find that prince."

Sebastian may not approve of Ariel's adventures, but he still helps her do what will make her happy.

Maui

Demigod Maui proves to be a true friend to Moana as he teaches her to become a master wayfinder. He will risk his own safety to defend her from Te Ka.

Fairy Godmother

The Fairy Godmother may be a little forgetful, but she can do all kinds of magic with her wand. She turns Cinderella into a beautiful princess, fit for the ball.

Genie

Luckily for Jasmine, the Genie is a great friend to Aladdin. He turns him into a rich prince and helps him meet the princess.

Flit

Flit the hummingbird is very protective of Pocahontas. He doesn't like strangers trying to get too close to her.

Jaq and Gus

You can count on these brave mice to always help their "Cinderelly." They take on scary cats and evil stepsisters for their lovely friend.

Cri-Kee

Some say Cri-Kee is a lucky charm. However, he doesn't always bring the best luck! Still, the gutsy grasshopper tries his hardest to help Mulan.

What makes a princess?

All of the princesses think for themselves and are brave, confident, and good. However, each one also has something special that makes her stand out from the crowd. This is what makes each princess truly extraordinary.
