Linus Gets Glasses

Charlie Brown and Linus are walking home from school
when all of a sudden Linus stops and points ahead.
“Look out, Charlie Brown!”
he shouts. “There’s a queen snake!”

Charlie Brown checks.
“That’s not a snake.
It’s just an old stick,”
he says.

Gobble Up, SNOOPY!

With more than ~ 30 ~
STICKERS!

by Charles M. Schulz

Charlie Brown is sitting outside when his sister, Sally, walks by with an envelope.

“What is that?” he asks.

“I wrote a thank-you letter to Linus,” Sally replies.
“It says I’m thankful that he is my Sweet Babboo!”

Time for School, CHARLIE BROWN

by Charles M. Schulz

Poor Charlie Brown!
He can't kick a football.
Or throw a decent pitch.
Or even fly a kite.
But when it comes to
worrying about school,
he is the world champ!

“You look down, Charlie Brown,”
Linus says.
